IRONSHORE BROADENS STAND-ALONE TERRORISM INSURANCE WITH PROTECTION FOR “LONE WOLF” TERRORIST ACTS

Hamilton, Bermuda, December 18, 2014 – Ironshore Inc. has broadened its Stand-Alone Terrorism & Sabotage insurance program to provide coverage to protect against the impact of isolated, “lone wolf” terrorist events. Ironshore’s long-standing terrorism program offers comprehensive terms of coverage with capacity of up to $300 million in support of U.S. businesses that suffer loss from a terrorist act, which is distinct from coverage that had been offered under the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act (TRIA) that will expire on December 31, 2014.

In recent years, small scale or individual, “lone wolf” attacks have become increasingly prevalent on the global stage with significant impact on businesses and the tragic toll on human lives. Ironshore’s global protection for terrorism events responds to covered claims above the policy deductible for losses resulting from Property Damage, Business Interruption and Extra Expense costs in the aftermath of a terrorist attack. Terms of the Ironshore policy are underwritten to meet specific lender coverage requirements.

“We at Ironshore were surprised that Congress did not reauthorize TRIA, which was important legislation enacted to protect the U.S. economy in the post 9/11 environment,” stated James Dover, Senior Vice President, War & Terrorism. “Ironshore will continue to provide a private sector solution for terrorism insurance protection for our clients and brokers that has and will continue to go beyond government authorization and certification of terrorist attacks.”

Ironshore’s War & Terrorism cover is offered through its Lloyd’s Pembroke Syndicate 4000, underwritten worldwide by the Syndicate’s dedicated team of professionals with expertise in terrorism risk.
Mr. Dover emphasized that, “Ironshore’s expansion of its terrorism program underscores the repercussions experienced in the wake of scaled, lone wolf acts of terror, such as the Boston Marathon Bombings and most recently the Sydney café hostage event.”
